

PTAB Grants 100% of MIAX’s Invalidation Petitions Against Nasdaq Patents with Sixth and Final Petition Granted This Week

PRINCETON, N.J., Nov. 15, 2018 – Miami International Holdings, Inc. (MIH), the parent holding company of the MIAX Options[®] and MIAX PEARL[™] exchanges (MIAX), today announced that the sixth and final MIAX petition for review of the patents asserted by Nasdaq in a complaint filed against MIAX has been granted by the Patent Trial and Appeal Board (PTAB) of the United States Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO). The PTAB has now granted all six of the filed MIAX petitions for review. In each instance, the PTAB found that it is more likely than not that the claims in each of the respective patents are unpatentable under current law.

“We have maintained from the beginning that Nasdaq’s complaint is nothing more than an attempt to stifle competition and innovation, and the fact that the PTAB has now granted each and every one of our six petitions for review due to unpatentability speaks volumes to this firmly held position,” said Thomas P. Gallagher, Chairman and CEO of MIH. “It is fairly obvious that Nasdaq views MIAX as a perceived threat and did everything in its power to disrupt our growth by filing its complaint. In spite of Nasdaq’s bullying tactics, we refuse to let these allegations interfere with the progress we have experienced over the past year and continue to pursue opportunities to expand our business worldwide.”

Continued Gallagher, “Given that more than 80% of patents reviewed after the PTAB grants a petition are ultimately found void according to public reports published by the USPTO, our belief that we will ultimately prevail in this action has only grown stronger with each petition granted. We remain confident that all of the claims of these six patents are unpatentable and await the PTAB’s final determinations.”
